

SPANDANA SUPER SINGER – USA 2010

Sing a Song & Support a Student

Beautiful music is thought to bring down rains, start fires, or tame wild animals. Spandana Foundation aims to use the medium of music to support poor and meritorious students, homeless, and provide medical assistance to the needy and unfortunate of the society. You must think that it is incredulous, impossible and must be wondering the link between Music and Society. Spandana Foundation, which is established by NRIs with the sole objective of undertaking socially responsible projects in India, aims to make this impossible link between Music and Society possible!

Spandana Foundation announces the Spandana Super Singer USA – 2010 event with the slogan "Sing a Song and Support a Student". Spandana Super Singer USA - 2010 event is a Music Summer Camp followed by a contest for NRI kids of all age groups from June 24 to August 2, 2010.

Music has no boundaries is a known fact. Spandana Super Singer 2010 is a summer camp teaching Indian Music and Culture for NRI kids speaking Telugu, Tamil, Kannada, Hindi etc. languages. However there is no language barrier for auditions tests. Accomplished and eminent play-back singers & musicians of the Indian cine field, Sri Parthasarathi, Sri Mallikarjun and many more provide training to amateur and aspiring singers among the NRI community to compete and win. Spandana Super Singer 2010 will be organized in all major cities of USA and the top performers from each city will be awarded with "Spandana Super Singer, regional title" and selected to perform at a national level Mega Finale competition for the "Spandana Super Singer, USA-2010" title and an exciting chance to sing in a music album specially created for Spandana.

Since 2005, Spandana Foundation, a 501 (c)(3) tax-exempt Charitable organization has grown to over 3500 members. Spandana has supported over 10,000 students in the states of Andhra Pradesh, Karnataka, Tamil Nadu, Kerala & Maharashtra, improved infrastructure for over 10 schools, conducted health camps benefiting over 15,000 villagers, saved 20 lives by supporting for expensive surgeries, constructed 170 homes for flood victims and adopted 23 orphans. Every year, Spandana comes up with innovative, exciting and entertaining ways to engage member volunteers in raising funds to implement the various activities under the Pratibha project.

Through this Spandana Super Singer – 2010 event, Spandana intends to raise funds to support over 4,000 poor and meritorious students under the Pratibha project with an additional goal of increasing awareness about the plight of less fortunate. We request the support of all NRIs to make the Spandana Super Singer USA 2010 event a grand success and strengthen our efforts in providing opportunities to the underprivileged in India.
